

Rating Action: Moody's revises Shands Teaching Hospital and Clinics, Inc.'s (FL) outlook to positive; A3 affirmed

Global Credit Research - 06 Dec 2017

New York, December 06, 2017 -- Summary Rating Rationale

Moody's Investors Service has revised the outlook to positive from stable on Shands Teaching Hospital and Clinics, Inc. (Shands), reflecting expectations of continued favorable performance, balance sheet growth and further deleveraging. At this time we are affirming the A3 rating on Shands' outstanding debt of approximately $610 million issued through the Alachua County Health Facilities Authority, FL. Shands and certain of its affiliates operate under d/b/a's beginning with "UF Health."

The A3 reflects Shands' stable and improving operating performance across the past three years, the strong relationship with the University of Florida, and Shands' clinical service array and volume trends. While Shands may show some contraction in absolute and relative liquidity by the end of fiscal 2018 given the planned equity contribution for the new patient tower, liquidity should remain in line with A-rated peers. Challenges include Shands' leverage position and debt service coverage measures which are below A3 medians.

Rating Outlook

The revision of the outlook to positive reflects our expectations of maintenance of favorable financial performance and further deleveraging; successful opening and operating of the new tower and refinement of longer-term capital plans.

Factors that Could Lead to an Upgrade

- Further deleveraging and improvement in debt coverage metrics as Shands' maintains current levels of performance
- Increase in absolute and relative liquidity after the equity contribution toward the new tower
- Successful operating of the new tower including effective utilization
- Refinement of future capital plans

Factors that Could Lead to a Downgrade

- Weakened operating performance
- Increase in leverage that exceeds cash flow growth
- Change in the relationship with the university
